

Press Invitation

Bahujan Economists is organising a webinar with workers and representatives from different communities and groups to understand the impact of state-imposed crises in India - health, economic, and livelihood. The burden tolls heavily on the shoulders of people already living on the margins.

To capture the pervasiveness of the impact of the crisis and to amplify the demands of workers, we have invited speakers from a broad range of occupations and communities, including ASHA workers, MGNREGA workers, sex workers, sanitation workers, and the transgender community:

1. Sima Kumari, Stranded Workers Action Network
2. Grace Banu, Trans Rights Activist
3. Nitin Lahore, Valmiki Youth Welfare Committee, Indore
4. Sanjay Sahni, Samaj Parivatan Shakti Sangathan
5. Surekha and Kamlesh, ASHA Workers Union, Haryana
6. Kiran Deshmukh, President, National Network of Sex Workers

We believe this to be of utmost urgency that needs more coverage in the mainstream media for wider reach. We, therefore, invite media organisations to cover this event to highlight the lived experiences of the speakers and the people they represent and help raise their demands`. Thank you.
